MANY CANDIDATES ENTER COUNCIL RACE

With a wide field of candidates forseen in the campaign race for the city election set for April 14, little more than a week remains for candidates for city council to file records with the clerk's office.

All papers must be filed before Saturday, March 14, according to B. C. Ross, city clerk. Only one return, that of Cliff J. Pettigrew, had been made to the clerk's office until noon Tuesday, but four others have candidate's papers out, and it is expected that there will be additional candidates as other men have signified intentions of running for the three positions on the city council.

Daniel Dolan, manager of the Dolan Wrecking company, is one of the candidates who has candidate's papers. Hugh Smith jr. ,manager of the H. H. Smith Lumber company, also will run for the council.

Paul G. Selmi, on the present city council, has taken out candidate's papers with the intention of running for office. Newest candidate to enter the race is Remi Sanders, Jefferson Union high school board of trustees' chairman.

The Record, in maintaining its open door policy in an effort to acquaint its readers more completely with all candidates, has announced that it will carry an account of any candidate's intention to run for office. In addition, the Record, starting with the March 19 issue, will allow five inches of space, without charge, to each candidate to tell his own story under his own signature.

Compagno-Hogan Trial Opens This Morning

On the bench as judge in the Compagno-Hogan trial which opens this morning at 10 a. m. in the Daly City courtroom will be Judge Hugh Mullen of San Mateo.

Judge John J. Fahey jr. disqualified himself at the trial for plea from sitting in the case because of former legal affiliation with one of the defendants. This led to the naming of Judge Mullen for the case.

Resulting from a midnight street brawl in Mission circle, early last month, the trial will be a joint case consisting of four defendants, all of whom pleaded not guilty to the four charges. Three of the defendants are brothers and sister, Johnny and Tony Compagno and Theresa Compagno. They are represented by Joseph Haughey, San Francisco.

Johnny Compagno entered into a slugfest with Thomas Hogan, 30 Niantic street, the fourth defendant, leading to the street brawl into which the other two Compagnos entered. When Daly City police officers made an attempt to halt the fight, the Compagnos allegedly resisted the attempts by fighting with the officers. Each of the Compagnos are charged in the justice court with resisting an officer. Two other counts, battery and rioting, are charged against Tony Compagno, while his brother, Johnny is also charged with battery, rioting, and disturbing the peace.

Charges against Hogan are disturbing the peace and rioting, and, although he was not represented by counsel at the trial for plea, Hogan will be represented in today's trial by Harold C. Brown, an attorney from San Francisco.

Because of entering the case only this week, Hogan's attorney will possibly seek a continuance of the case. Hogan also signified that he may ask for a jury trial, separate from the Compagno side of the case.

In addition to the four counts of the justice court against Johnny Compagno, Police Chief James Reardon also signed a city complaint against him for disturbing the peace.

Prosecution will be conducted by an attorney from the district attorney's office in Redwood City, possibly Burress Karmel.

Seek To Establish County Blood Bank

Striving to avert such tragedies as those at Pearl Harbor which were caused by lack of blood plasma, the newly organized San Mateo County Blood Bank central committee held its initial meeting, Saturday, at Mills hospital to outline objectives and discuss the means of raising funds.

Forseeing that if a disaster occurs, San Mateo county would be forced to rely on its own resources to save lives, the committee plans to create a blood bank of all types of blood so that no delay will effect blood transfusions. To do this, the committee expects to store away, using the latest developments of the medical profession, from 500 to 1000 units of blood plasma, and to register and type everyone in the county.

Approved by the San Mateo County Medical association, the blood bank plan was proposed by organized labor in the county.

Further plans for the blood bank will be laid Tuesday at 7 p. m. when a meeting of the committee will be held at the Benjamin Franklin hotel in San Mateo.

McGovern Thanks Volunteer Registrars

After completion of the third selective service registration in Daly City and Colma, Dr. J. C. McGovern, chairman of the local board, had much praise for the work of the volunteer registrars who conducted the registration.

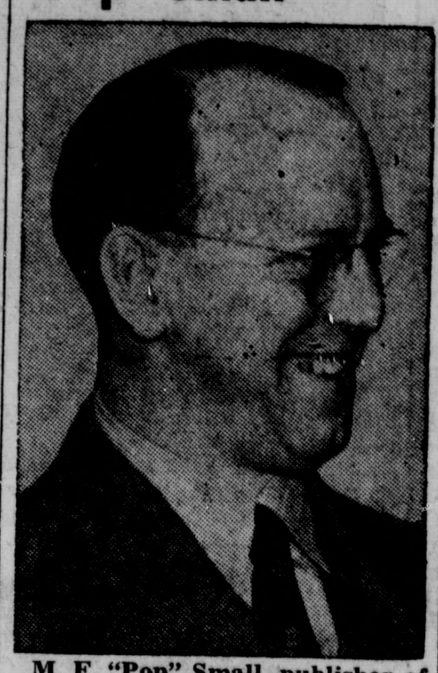
"We had a big job on our hands in registering about 2000 men in the territory in draft board No. 103," Dr. McGovern said, "but the people who served as registrars certainly did a splendid job in taking care of the crowd of men that registered during the three days."

Dr. McGovern asked for volunteers to serve in assisting the men to register, making his appeal early in January. Inside of 24 hours, Dr. McGovern reported that he had all the registrars that were needed.

Dr. McGovern expressed his appreciation to the following registrars from Daly City: Mrs. Gladys Guttmann, Miss Madeline Ford, Mrs. Hazel Mallen, Mrs. Louise Medley, Catherine C. Coughlin, Mrs. Ida Hanley, Mrs. E. Harrison, Mrs. M. S. Johnson, Mrs. M. Jones, Mrs. Anna Warchot, Mrs. Thomas Tallon, and Bertram Lasswell.

The draft board chairman thanked the following who served in the Colma registration: Mrs. Margaret Varni, Mrs. Louise Zanetti, Mrs. Albina Volkman, Mrs. Ida Garibaldi, and Mrs. Alice Dolle. Chief registrar for the Daly City registration was Mrs. Isabelle Flynn, chief draft clerk, and Mrs. Varni served as Colma's chief registrar.

"Pop" Small



M. F. "Pop" Small, publisher of the Quincy Feather River Bulletin, heads the California Newspaper Publishers association in California. This group, representing the free American press, is doing everything in its power to speed the nation on its way to victory. In addition, member papers are striving to maintain as normal a community life as possible, in their respective cities and towns. For many years the Daly City Record has been a member of the association.

Defense Council To Meet Tonight

Further plans for Daly City's civilian defense organization will be developed tonight at 7 p. m. when the Civilian Defense Council meets at the city hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

Increasing the personnel of the short-handed first aid division of the council will be one of the primary tasks at tonight's meeting. Means of getting new volunteers for first aid will be discussed by the council in consideration of the fact that first aid in the community is about one third as strong, numerically, as the requirements that are asked by the San Mateo County Red Cross first aid division.

Julius Twesten, chief air raid warden in the Civilian Defense Council, met with the senior air raid wardens in a special conference, Tuesday night, and laid plans for air raid wardens in all precincts.

Auxiliary police officers are receiving additional instruction in warfare law enforcement especially designed for civilian defense bodies by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Chief of Police James G. Reardon is carrying out the FBI instruction for auxiliary officers in weekly meetings.

Fire protection in the civilian defense organization has shown much progress as some of the companies are receiving additional instruction in handling bombs. Chief A. P. Chesney has divided the auxiliary officers among the six fire companies of the department, and the drilling is supervised by company captains.

MAYOR DISAPPROVES RATIONING CHANGE

Here's Susie-Q In Trouble Again!

Remember Susie-Q, mascot of Group No. 141, Boy Scouts and Cubs? She was in the news several months ago for chasing a mouse into a can and getting her head stuck. She nearly suffocated before rescued by Cub Bobby Thompson.

Apparently fanatically determined to use up all nine lives, she chose, last week, to sleep in the broiler compartment of Cubmaster Joseph Straughan's gas range.

"I turned on the gas and smelled hair burning," said Straughan, in relating the incident. "I peered into the compartment and wasted no time in extricating my cat. She appeared no worse for her harrowing experience except for a singed back and tail. I hope she's a wiser cat now."

Straughan has written a limerick of the incident:

There was once a dumb kitten 'tis said
Who chose a gas stove for its bed;
But when the stove lighted,
The kitten was sighted,
And reseued before it was dead.

Red Cross Designates Center For Relief

With the establishment of county emergency relief centers throughout San Mateo county by the Red Cross, Daly City's Red Cross Disaster Relief committee this week named the medical station at Jefferson Union high school as the center for relief in the community in case of enemy bombing.

Set up in January by the Civilian Defense Council, the strong sheltered, fully-equipped surgical station is adjoining a large dining room in the building which will be used as a center for feeding, clothing and rendering aid to those who need it in case of disaster.

According to the Disaster Relief Committee's rules, those who need aid if their homes have been destroyed are to go to the center which is nearest your residence in the county and register with a Red Cross worker. The needs of the victims are placed on a requisition form, and the food or clothing that is required will be issued there.

Emergency centers which have already been named by the Red Cross in San Mateo county include: Burlingame, San Mateo, Millbrae, San Bruno, Belmont, San Carlos, Half Moon Bay, Hillsborough, and South San Francisco.

Have Any Tools You Could Lend?

After expressing the need for additional tools and equipment to further drills for demolition squad volunteers in the civilian defense organization, P. J. Kelly, demolition chief and city buliding inspector, made an appeal, yesterday, to residents for tools.

Any tools that are loaned to the demolition squad by residents will be marked and returned to the owners at the end of the emergency, Kelly announced. Shovels, picks, saws, hammers, and bars are especially needed. Anyone who wishes to lend tools may call the Daly City Police department, RAndolph 4212, and an authorized person will call for the tools.

Next meeting of the demolition squad will be held, Thursday, March 12, at 8 p. m. in the city hall.

County May Lose Huge Housing Program

San Mateo county's $5,000,000 long-range housing program may be lost because of lack of priorities, it was learned this week.

Wayne Johnson, secretary of the San Mateo housing authority, admitted that the office of defense housing coordination in San Francisco—with the backing of

Voicing disapproval of the county plan to abandon the Daly City Rationing board along with other boards of the county, Mayor John J. Fahey sr. declared this week that the Daly City office would continue to function until formal notice from the county.

Although the newly-formed county consolidated board took over the duties of controlling rationed commodities in San Mateo county, this week, no formal notice had yet been received yesterday in Daly City for the local board to disband. The board, appointed by Mayor Fahey on instructions from the County Civilian Defense Council and the Office of Production Management, is composed of Mrs. Ethel Dorn, Edmund Cavagnaro, and John Degliantoni.

"If this board ceases to function in Daly City, it will mean a great inconvenience to the residents of this community," Mayor Fahey said in denouncing the proposed plan.

"Daly City people must go to South San Francisco, according to the county board, to apply for purchase of rationed goods when they could just as well be taken care of here without any complications to the county."

Mayor Fahey expressed much satisfaction with the work of the rationing board since it first began to function, adding that there had been no grievances from applicants against the Daly City board.

Paul Fagin, Hillsborough financier, was named to the chairmanship of the county consolidated board, and county authorities said that Fagin plans to meet with Mayor Fahey to discuss Daly City's rationing problems. The board was formed in the county at a meeting last week and began work, Monday.

Although county tire quotas for the month of March have been set, the local board has not received Daly City quotas yet. Quotas in the county for March are 122 tires and 102 tubes for passenger cars. For trucks, San Mateo county will be allowed 224 tires, 252 tubes, and 96 retreads.

Draft Board Names Advisory Group

Prepared to classify the two thousand new registrants who signed up for selective service within the area of Daly City draft board No. 103, the board this week named an advisory committee for the potential selectee-soldiers.

R. C. MacArthur, local real estate man, was appointed to the advisory board to serve as chairman, and was instructed to name the rest of the board himself. Serving on MacArthur's board, which will assist the registrants in filling out their questionnaires, and discussing each registrant's problems, will be sixteen people. Following are the names of the advisory board who will serve with MacArthur: John Soldavini, Colma; A. J. Gaggero, 7377 Mission street; William Lagomarsino, 7100 Mission street; Ricco Lagomarsino, 7100 Mission street; Hugh H. Smith jr., 2 Hillside boulevard; Mrs. Marcie Trier, 2 Hillside boulevard; Paul Selmi, 39 Wellington avenue; R. N. Murphy, South San Francisco; A. J. Welte, South San Francisco; William Muzio, South San Francisco; H. F. Hart, South San Francisco; Louis Belloni, South San Francisco; John Attridge, South San Francisco; Jack Hickey, South San Francisco; and J. Franzen, Bayshore. Registrants who need advice can see a representative of the advisory board at selective service headquarters, city hall at Daly City, Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p. m.

In preparation for the national lottery which will be held in Washington, March 17, to determine the order number of each new registrant, the Daly City Draft Board office is serial numbering each registrant's card. Unlike the order number drawn in the national lottery, this serial number has no bearing on the order in which the registrant will appear before the board.

the Washington office—had rejected applications for low-cost housing projects in San Mateo, Redwood City and Daly City, with the explanation that there was "not the need" in San Mateo county.

Immediately at stake is a $750,000 fund earmarked in Washington, last April. Of this, $153,000 was to be spent in San Mateo, $330,000 in Redwood City and $137,000 in Daly City.

GROUP 141 GETS BUSY AGAIN

With the return of their cub and scout leader, Joseph Straughan, the boys of Pack and Troop No. 141 are again busy at work.

The troop announces that eight new candidates are "neck 'n neck" in a race to complete their tenderfoot test. Winner of the race receives a free trip to Santa Cruz camp and Boulder Creek farm. Regular scouts who advance to a higher rank also win the privilege of going on the outing. The excursion will be held during Easter vacation.

A new review board and court of honor committee is being formed by the group. Fathers of the scouts will act on these two committees. All selections have not as yet been made, but Straughan announced that they hoped the units would be functioning in time for their six year anniversary celebration in May.

Members of the cup pack announce a new boy has been added to their group. Walter Lee Dean is the new cub. He has been assigned to Cub Den No. 1.

Den mother in charge of No. 1 is Mrs. W. L. Dean. The boys meet at 6610 Mission street.

Cubmaster Straughan announces that Den No. 3 has had to be temporarily disbanded because of the need of a den mother. Any woman living in the vicinity of Mission street, Niantic avenue to Park avenue, who would like to be in charge of a group of boys, is asked to contact Straughan at ELkridge 3335.

The boys of both groups announce their paper collecting is progressing. "The group has been fortunate in securing a sales contact for waste scrap paper," stated Straughan. "If no one has collected your waste paper please phone any of these numbers—Elkridge 3335, Randolph 7080 or Elkridge 7412 for prompt removal," he concluded.

INCREASED RECREATIONAL USE

Mountain vacationists made 4,710,000 recreation visits to the eighteen national forests of the California region, last year, the U. S. Forest Service announced, this week, in its annual recreation report to the Department of Agriculture.

An additional 6,745,000 visitors were listed as "passing through" on forest roads and highways. The total number of forest visits represented an increase of 12 per cent over the preceding year.

'H. M. Pulham, Esq.' Plays At Daly City

Directed by King Vidor, with Hedy Lamarr, Robert Young and Ruth Hussey offering topnotch portrayals, M-G-M's filmization of "H. M. Pulham, Esq.," comes to the Daly City theatre today.

The picture faithfully follows the story of the young Bostonian who seeks to escape the mound of tradition in which he is cast, finds the one great love of his life, then is forced back to the conventions of his class. He marries the woman his family had chosen for him, then, at middle age, discovers that he cannot recapture the romance of his lost youth.

Perhaps one of the greatest surprises of the production is the casting of the glamorous Hedy Lamarr as the cool, disciplined business girl, Marvin Myles.

Welcome back to the train

We're seeing a lot of new faces on our trains these days—people who formerly made all their trips by automobile.

Now they're saving their tires by using the train.

We're glad to have these people back with us so we can show them how comfortable train travel really is.

If you are worried about the tire problem (and who isn't!), a good way to solve it is to travel by train whenever you can. There are mighty few places that aren't served by train.

Here are a few examples of our fares, good in chair cars and coaches:

From San Francisco to:	One way	Round trip
Los Angeles	$ 6.60	$ 9.90
Sacramento	2.00	3.60
Chicago	43.45	71.50

Ramblers Trim Western Pipe Five

In a closely contested basketball game at Jefferson gymnasium, the Ramblers of Daly City trimmed Western Pipe and Steel, 35 to 29, Friday.

Brisno, ace forward of the local aggregation, led the winning attack with ten points. Domecus, playing at the center post, scored eight points for the Ramblers, while Ramsey, with six points, and Pearson with seven, turned in stellar guard games. Ferry was high for the losers with eight points.

In the other game of the double bill sponsored by the Daly City WPA Recreation department, the Stagg Athletic club showed classy form in outplaying the Daly City Boys club by a score of 47 to 35. Doyle, sparkplug of the Stagg offensive department, gave a sparkling performance at a forward position, scoring 18 points. A team-mate, Ryal, was next high with 12 points, and Johnson and Savelly of the Boys club had 10 points apiece.

Trend of Skiing Popularity

A good idea of the increase in popularity of skiing as a week-end sport is furnished in statistics of the Canadian Pacific railway. The railroad's first special ski train, inaugurated in 1923, carried less than 100 enthusiasts. In the 1940 season more than 145,000 skiers took advantage of the services.

Three Traffic Offenders Pay Fines

Three traffic offenders paid fines in Daly City, Friday, for traffic violations of last week.

Speeding without due caution and going through a stop signal cost Vincent Pellegrini, San Francisco, $7.50.

Ernest Tavares, Merced, was fined $3.50 for a speeding charge, and Louis Rasmussen, South San Francisco, paid $1 for failing to stop at a stop signal.

THE COUNTRY MUST COME FIRST

"Conversion of Government" is the title of a vigorous and telling editorial in the Washington Post that has jarred the capitol.

"The Post submits," the editorial says in part, "that if there is any one industry in this country which needs conversion to a wartime basis it is our Government.

"The Government stopped the automobile industry to convert it to a wartime armament program. All over the country thousands of men, the dealers, are without a livelihood . . . There was no mass protest about this from the automobile dealers. They took it without a whimper like good soldiers. The country comes first.

"Now take a look at Government . . . Half the parasites in Washington are coordinators and fancy titled people in screw-ball jobs, doing their best to think of something to start that will outstrip another department doing the same thing. This does not sound like war-like operations. The people who desperately want to save our country are not complacent about it either."

Californians, in the front line on the most dangerous front of the continent, can hardly be complacent either when they read that the WPA is receiving allotments in million-dollar sizes for improvements in streets and alleys of cities whose need NOW is for defense planes and anti-aircraft guns. Nor can they be complacent at news that a dubious inland waterway project rejected by the U. S. Senate eight years ago, the old St. Lawrence river project, has been revived in the present Congress in a bill calling for construction, enormously costly in money and materials, which will require five years to complete—and received under the cloak of the national defense emergency.

The people, as the POST asserts, "are going to be paying half their income in taxes, they are going to see their sons marching away in increasing numbers. But they are not going to stand for cockeyed social reformers and professional project planners wasting materials and money when American soldiers are fighting without airplanes."

AN EDUCATOR LOOKS AHEAD

A great many profound thoughts were voiced at the national convention of the American Association of School Administrators, just ended in San Francisco. Yet one of the simplest statements made was perhaps the wisest. Asked for some answer to the complex future Americans face today, Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, Mills College president, told a reporter:

"The answer is just where it always has been—in human relations: in the ties that bind a mother to her child, a wife to her husband, a friend to a friend, a citizen to his country. It is respect for the fundamentals, respect for affection, honesty and loyalty, that brings satisfaction and contentment to men and women. Education can help find these things. So I believe in higher education, not as a means to an end, but as a means to a more reasonable and happy existence."

Reading & Writing

By Edwin Seaver and Robin McKown

Interest in Harry Scherman's "The Last Best Hope of Earth" is so wide-spread that the Book-of-the-Month Club, in cooperation with the Council for Democracy, is sending this thoughtful "philosophy for the war" to its entire membership, which numbers over 500,000 American families.

The key idea, Scherman points out, which can explain every aspect of the war, is that all the peoples of the earth are now bound together, inseparably, in an economic world-union. This union, the result of a long evolution, has now advanced very far, and the world continues to move inexorably in that direction.

The war, says Scherman, is "an avowed attempt on the part of the Nazis to control that economic world-union for the prime benefit of the German people. The bed-rock issue, therefore, is whether this economic world-union is to be finally perfected for the benefit of a single people or of all."

The United States is not only an inseparable part, but because it does about two-fifths of the business of the world, is by far the most important part of the existing economic world-union. As Scherman states, any effort on the part of one people to control this union cannot help but be crucially damaging to our existence as a nation, and to the livelihood of every individual in it.

"The Last Best Hope of Earth" is a lucid statement of what, ultimately, we are fighting about, and what the peace must be if our democratic world is to survive and prosper.

John Gunther, whose "Inside Latin America" is now nearing the 400,000 mark, reports that he had only one run-in with the British censor during his recent six weeks' stay in London. Invited to appear on Clifton Fadiman's "Information Please" program, from London, Mr. Gunther cabled a friend in New York: "Look for information please November 14." He received a call from the censor immediately. "What's this information you're asking your contact in New York to look for November 14?" the censor asked.

If you don't know what ails you, perhaps you should try poetry. In "The Advancing Front of Medicine," George W. Gray tells of a young woman who developed so strongly all the symptoms of tuberculosis that her doctor sent her to a sanatorium for observation. He could find no organic defect, but still the symptoms continued. Then one day a friend sent her an anthology of poetry. It proved a Godsend. As the patient read, she forgot her condition, until suddenly she realized that the choking sensation she had had was entirely gone. Thereafter she found she could always relieve herself of pain by reading her favorite poems. And, eventually, she was cured.

At a recent interview, Pearl Buck was asked if the Chinese considered themselves superior to the Japanese. "Well," she said, "the Japanese consider themselves superior to everybody. But the Chinese have a sense of humor—even about themselves—and you can't consider yourself superior to other people when you feel that way."

John Steinbeck has completed the dramatization of his forthcoming novel, "The Moon Is Down," and it will come to Broadway just about the time that Book-of-the-Month Club members will be receiving the novel on which the play is based.

"Good Night Ladies!" marks the footlights return of both Ebsen and Gallagher after achieving stardom rank on the Broadway stage and since winning equal prominence on the screen.

A notable cast of feminine players appears in featured supporting parts, providing the largest stage full of beauties since the stage hit, "The Women." They include Bernadene Hayes, Vivian Austin, Marlo Dwyer, Dora Clement and Frances Knight. How to Blackout..... and still have LIGHT for safety and comfort!

Civilian Defense Authorities advise:

1 Select one or more rooms where the family may assemble during a blackout. Consider size of room, adequacy of furnishings and access to kitchen, bathrooms and halls.

2 Arrange installations for complete blacking out of all windows, transoms and skylights in the selected room, employing one of the officially approved methods recommended by Civilian Defense Authorities.

3 Provide your blackout space with ample lighting facilities so that family activities may continue... games for the children, reading and other diversions for the adults. Light and occupation help banish fear.

4 Simple, easy to use blackout devices are preferable. Build them so that they can be quickly utilized or applied. In the absence of air raid alarms, live as you are accustomed to live.

RECOMMENDED BLACKOUT METHODS

★ ★ RECOMMENDED BLACKOUT MATERIALS ★ ★

REINFORCED BUILDING PAPER or other completely opaque paper, fibreboard or cardboard.
BLACK TWILL AWNING FABRIC OR DUCK CLOTH BLACK SATEEN
BLACK SALICIA COMPOSITION-TREATED CLOTH JEAN CLOTH
BLACK COTTON FLANNEL DENIM
Use only tested qualities of these materials, fully light proof.

ASK FOR HANDBOOK

Ask at any P. G. & E. office for handbook of plans and specifications for blackout preparation of your home. For official answers to your questions call your local Civilian Defense Council.

Crocker Reports On Child Welfare

Each year in complying with the policies of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Crocker P. T. A. tries to do its share for child welfare, according to a report made by Mrs. Orvilla D. Pauw, publicity chairman.

As each class of Crocker school graduates, Crocker members entertain the graduates with some kind of a party. Up until the last two years these parties have mostly been a day spent in roller-skating. In the past two years, a luncheon has been held for the graduating class.

This year the luncheon was held on Wednesday, January 28, and 21 graduates with their teacher, Miss Aileen Suber, were the honored guests.

The table was beautifully decorated in the school colors, green and white. Tiny diplomas served as place cards and a large cake answered as a centerpiece.

The mothers who served under Mrs. Florence Thorsen, chairman, were Mrs. Mercurio, Mrs. Lantz, Mrs. Church, Mrs. De Fanti, Mrs. Agnes Prescott and Mrs. Emma D'Isep.

The children, to show their appreciation, entertained their hostess with the following short program—piano solo by Ernest Lantz; harmonica solo by Edward Church and a piano solo by Doris Mercurio.

Another form of child welfare which Crocker has carried on is to give a life membership almost every year since its institution. The one which was given this year is the twelfth since Crocker's beginning in 1929. The money given for life memberships goes for further education of a boy or girl who could not afford to pay his or her own way. The life membership itself is given to some deserving member of the unit or even an outsider who is giving his or her time for the welfare of the children of the country.

This year Crocker has bought glasses for one child in the school and furnished free lunches to three others during the past term. This it will continue to do as long as the need exists.

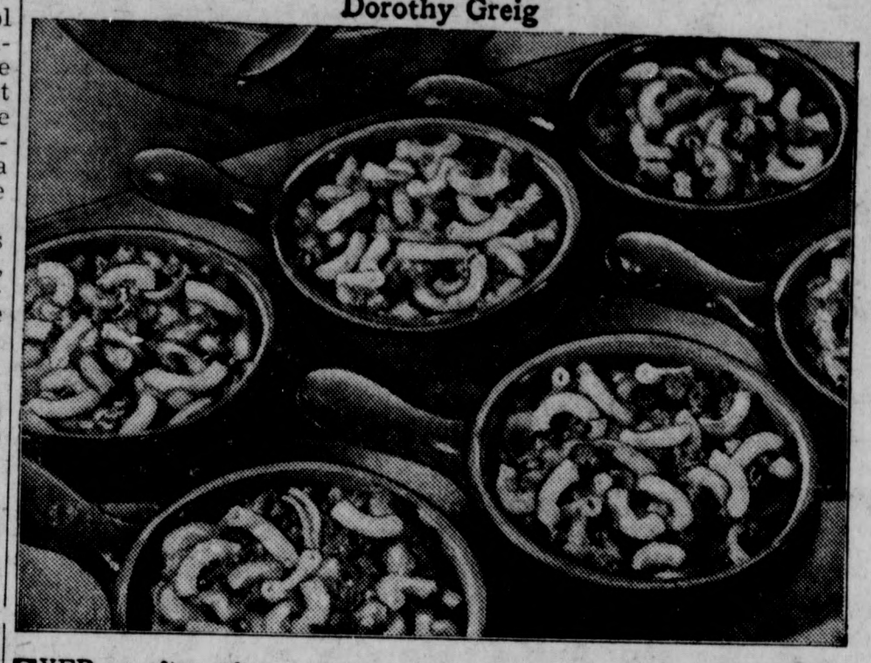
Other ladies present were: Mrs. Cora Ray, Mrs. Mable Duffner, Mrs. Cinderella Weller, Mrs. Mattie Smith, Mrs. Anna Smith, Mrs. Estelle Peterson, Mrs. Agnes Wood, Mrs. Lucy Nelson, Mrs. Doris Davis, Mrs. Lillian Marshall, Mrs. Emilie Twesten, Mrs. Mary Sernack, and Mrs. Marie Rucker.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Davis. The next meeting is set for March 10 at the home of Mrs. Wood, 39 Mission circle.

Individual BEEF-MACARONI Ramekins

Dorothy Greig



EVER so often after a season of fancy doin's mother would announce, "And now it's time to return to good, plain living." At that we would all look very cheerful indeed . . . for it was sure sign that mother was feeling the urge to make some of her famous hashes and stews.

The flavor secret of those delectable dishes lay in the seasonings—seasonings that coaxed out every smidgin of flavor and made those dishes something remembered with delight to this day.

I was thinking the other day that my special Beef-Macaroni Casserole belongs in that company of beautifully seasoned foods, too. The seasoning magic here is condensed tomato soup. It is used as a lively sauce to blend and mingle the hearty goodness of beef, the smooth blandness of macaroni into one delicious whole.

It is fun, too, to divide the mixture and bake it in individual ramekins or casseroles, one for each member of the family. Set down smoking hot from the oven each savory whiff is invitation to good eating:

Individual Beef-Macaroni Ramekins

2 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons onion, chopped
1 pound ground beef
2 cups cooked macaroni
1 can condensed tomato soup
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Melt the butter and cook the onion until soft, but not brown. Add the ground beef and cook until brown. Then add cooked macaroni, tomato soup and seasonings. Put into individual casseroles, cover and bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 20-30 minutes. Serves 6.

THINK IT OVER!

Industry must drive ahead faster to help beat Hitler and Hirohito, but car owners must drive slower in the same cause.

A speeding automobile eats up exorbitant amounts of rubber and fuel—vital war materials—and parts wear out faster. And with no new cars rolling off the assembly lines for civilian users, you'll have to make the one you've got last longer.

Legion Auxiliary To Work For Victory

Women of the American Legion auxiliary can and will be a mighty force for achievement of victory, declared Mrs. Marce Trier, national defense chairman of Daly City unit, as the auxiliary went forward with its activities following the Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Trier called upon auxiliary women to show the way in the service and sacrifice necessary for the defense of America. She asked that they set an example in the maintenance of a calm attitude in the face of increasing difficulties, refusing to become excited regardless of the emergency.

She called upon members of the auxiliary to refrain from listening to and repeating underground rumors and whisperings of dire things to come, pointing out that subversive groups are still at work endeavoring to undermine the confidence of the American people in their government.

Finally, she urged courage in the face of the greatest sacrifice, the sending of sons, husbands and brothers to serve in the nation's defense.

"Let us, if we can," she said, "send them forth with a smile and help create within them the spirit of confidence and determination that will bring quick victory for America."

Sixty-seven relatives and friends attended the shower. A five-piece orchestra entertained the guests. One of the highlights of the evening was the presentation of a lovely cake to the bride-to-be. The huge cake was given by Miss McLaughlin's aunt, Mrs. Tinie Arada, Alameda.

Her four bridesmaids will be Miss Florence Bruhns, Miss Lois Gray, Miss Audrey Thiebaut, Miss Celestine Moglia. AMERICANISM CHAIRMAN CITES NEED FOR EDUCATION

Education in Americanism is a vital part of the defense of the nation, said Mrs. Catherine Foreman, Americanism chairman of Daly City unit of the American Legion auxiliary, presenting plans for the auxiliary's work in this field.

"As we fight for the defense of democracy, we must teach the principles of democracy more effectively than ever before," Mrs. Foreman stated. "Young and old alike must know exactly what our free form of government means to them, and how it gives them advantages they could not enjoy under any other form of rule."

The auxiliary's Americanism program includes citizenship schools for the foreign born, citizenship education for native Americans through Americanism meetings, study groups, talks before women's organizations and cooperation with the schools; teaching how to display and honor the American flag, combatting the activities of un-American groups, and supporting youth organizations which teach Americanism.

Ocean Sand Claimed "Perfectly Safe"

Ocean or beach sand is perfectly safe to use in combatting incendiary bombs, according to the San Mateo Civilian Defense Council.

Discounting a statement recently made that river sand should be used because of the presence of salt in ocean sand, the council received information from Major Johnston of the Chemical Warfare Division, United States Army, that sand from the beach containing a percentage of salt still remains the best method of confining the flames. The only source of danger, it was pointed out, is when wet sand is used.

Governor Appeals To Coast Residents

Fear that enemy war planes or submarines may again attempt to shell California has prompted Governor Culbert L. Olson to voice an appeal to residents, particularly those living along the coastline to be ever on the alert.

Any one sighting a suspicious plane, submarine, or warship is urgently requested by Governor Olson to immediately notify the nearest police or sheriff's office.

Red Cross Campaign Surpasses Original Quota

With collections in Daly City amounting to nearly $3000, the American Red Cross War Fund Campaign has surpassed its original quota in San Mateo county, according to latest tabulations from the county chapter.

The figures show that $2,929.02 was contributed from Daly residents to the drive, this community having been the first to over-subscribe its quota. San Mateo county's original goal was $50,000, and county contributions recently reached $50,590. Due to the greatly increased war relief program, however, the quota has been boosted to $65,000, the county committee announced last week. Both Daly City and county officials said that anyone who still wished to donate may make contributions to the local Red Cross.
